Air chief says India conflict involved 'largest, longest' BVR air battle in history

Pakistan's air chief said on Thursday the military launched cyberattacks targeting Indian communication hubs, power grids and transport infrastructure during the May 2025 conflict between the nuclear-armed neighbours, as he described a new model of cyber-enabled, multi-domain warfare. The four-day conflict erupted after India blamed Pakistan-based militants for an April 22, 2025 attack in Pahalgaon in Indian-occupied Kashmir that killed 26 civilians, most of them tourists. Pakistan denied involvement and called for an independent investigation. Tensions escalated rapidly after India launched cross-border strikes under "Operation Sindoore" on May 7, saying it had targeted militant infrastructure inside Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir. Pakistan said Indian states were hit and responded days later with "Operation Banyan-untargeted Missiles," targeting Indian military installations. The fighting, involving missiles, drones, artillery exchanges and air operations, was the most serious confrontation between the two countries in decades before a US-backed ceasefire was announced on May 10, 2025. "We have cyber force launches offensive targeting Indian communication hubs, power grids and transport infrastructure, causing major power disruption in different Indian states and key military installations," Air Chief Marshal Zaher Ahmed Bazar Siddiq said during a ceremony marking the first anniversary of what Pakistan calls "Maska-e-Haq" ("Battle of Truth"). The air chief said the confrontation demonstrated the effectiveness of Pakistan's military modernization and integration of cyber, electronic warfare and drone capabilities. "What the world witnessed in May 2025 was not achieved overnight but acquired through our transformative modernization undertaken over the past four to five years," he said. Siddiq said Pakistan had conducted what he described as a new form of integrated warfare. "For the first time in the history of air warfare, PF conducted full-spectrum, multi-domain operation," he said. He also described the aerial confrontation as unprecedented in scale.

"What follows was the largest and longest B-War versus B-War engagement in the history of air combat," he said, referring to beyond-visual-range aerial warfare. According to the air chief, Pakistan Air Force aircraft including J-10 and F-16 fighters intercepted Indian strike formations while cyber and electronic warfare operations disrupted Indian military coordination. "Pakistan Air Force valiant pilots started targeting enemy top-line fighter aircraft," he said. "Within minutes, multiple Rafale jets, Su-30MKI, Mirage 2000, MiG-29 and multi-million-dollar unmanned systems were shut down." The history of air combat, he said, claimed Pakistan had targeted Indian military infrastructure using long-range strike systems and drones. "Our killer drones, hypersonic missiles and long-range weapons struck 16 enemy air bases within a span of about 8 to 10 hours," he said. "Key military installation, BrahMos, critical command and control center and two of its prized S-400 batteries were neutralized," he said, referring to Indian missile infrastructure and

Russian-made air defense systems. Siddiq said Pakistan's modernization drive had focused on rapid operationalized and advanced and locally developed technologies despite financial constraints. "We inducted and operationalized numerous advanced combat and combat support capabilities along with niche technology in a record time," he said. The smartly executed homegrown kill chain was developed under the aegis of newly established National Aerospace Science and Technology Park. NEWS DESK

Business community urges government for US tariff waiver

By Junaid Khan

A view of Pakistan's diplomatic strategy during the US-Iran War, Pakistan's business community has urged the federal government to negotiate with the Trump Administration to waive off the reciprocal tariffs. The business community has insisted the completion of the Iran-Pakistan Gas Pipeline (IP) to resolve the energy crisis. It is estimated that the 19% US tariff is likely to reduce Pakistan's annual exports by over 1 billion USD, and the textile sector shall have to bear 80% of the loss, as the US is the top destination of Pakistani exports, which are over 40 percent of Pakistan's GDP. Mian Zahid Hussain, the Chairman of the Policy Advisory Board (PAB) of the Federation of Pakistan Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FPCCI) told Daily Times, that it was projected that the current account of the ongoing fiscal year would remain surplus despite the soaring trade deficit, due to remittance inflows, however the US-Iran War has refuted the entire bundle of projections, as the remittance inflows from the Middle East seem risky in the longer run, whereas, the trade deficit in April 2026 is hitting 46-months high of about 4 billion USD. Nevertheless, there is a silver lining for Pakistan due to her diplomatic role in the US-Iran ceasefire, which brings the ball in her court. This, it is about time, that Pakistan should ask for the tariff waiver from the United States, he urged the government. Rehman Hanif, the President of the Karachi Chamber of Commerce and Industry (KCCI) told the Daily Times, that in a meeting with the Finance Minister Muhammad Awarazgal, a day before his Washington's recent visit, the KCCI leadership insisted him to finance a deal for the reduction of US tariffs on Pakistan by at least 5 to 7 percent, along with the easing of stance on Iran-Pakistan Gas Pipeline (IP). "I am sure that both of these issues had been the part of the negotiations that took place in Washington, and I am hopeful, some positive developments are coming on board," Hanif affirmed.

While, highlighting the significance of the Iran-Pakistan (IP) Gas Pipeline, Rehman Hanif expressed, that the completion of the Iran-Pakistan Gas Pipeline would bring industrial revolution in Pakistan with a notable slash in the cost of doing business, along with reduction in RLNG import bill. IP shall also induce a positive impact on country's power generation and captive power scenario. Rehman Hanif articulated, that the KCCI did not ask the FinMin to fast for easing the IMF conditions or issuance of cheaper loans, instead the KCCI asserted, "We want trade, not aid." Albeit, Pakistan has got "all the cards" in the wake of the US-Iran War and ahead of Trump's China visit, whereas, Pakistan's Commerce Ministry is also holding the meetings with the US Commerce officials to advance trade cooperation between Pakistan and the United States. Nonetheless, the only thing that matter is, what the Pakistani leadership is going to demand, and what Pakistan is going to get. Shall the current leadership catch a bigger fish to fry, or concur with a drop in the bucket. The Future of the South Asian nation seems to be Que Sera Sera.
